State Rep. William Crawford, D-Indianapolis, will be honored with the Oscar McCulloch Social Concerns Award, presented by the Indiana Coalition for Human Services, during the group's annual meeting Friday in Indianapolis.

Crawford is being cited "for his long history of working in the Indianapolis community to improve the lives of vulnerable citizens," according to a press release from ICHS.

It is named for Oscar McCulloch, who championed many social reforms in Indiana in the late 19th century, and was first presented by the Indiana Conference on Social Concerns in 1989.

Crawford will receive the award at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the group's annual meeting at the American Red Cross building, 441 E. 10th St.
